Khutso: The sounds of Prince Kaybee with Yok'nto and before that I played you Joey Badass with a fire tune titled Temptations. It's just gone past 12:18 and I really want to find out from you, has your pride ever cost you a great opportunity?

The reason I'm asking this is because an ex of mine who works in event promoting (Hope he's not listening) wanted to book me to come mc at this prestigious award ceremony and I straight up said no because my pride and ego wouldn't let me accept a gig from him.

Has your pride ever cost you a great opportunity? Let me know on twitter and Facebook ,drop me a voice note on the yfm app if you can. [goes straight to music]
